Study and Theme Details

Hypothesis

There are differences in determinants of Family Quality of Life in dementia for Black/African American families and Non-Hispanic White families.

Specific Aims

1. To collect Family Quality of Life in Dementia (FQOL-D) questionnaire responses from 30 dementia caregivers who identify as white (non-Hispanic white) for comparison to identical existing data from family caregivers of Black/African American persons with dementia.

Study related to Deep South Disparities

We will explore differences in dementia caregiving experience between Black/African American and Non-Hispanic white families in Alabama
